Bondsmen's plan to spread $26,000,000 of Edmonton's bond debt over next 30 years was accepted by city council Thursday night on a six-three vote after the debt extension scheme had been deliberated for three hours. Official ratification will be given when it has been drafted in legal form.

LEGISLATURE MAY NOT PASS FORTIN PLAN

Edmonton to Seek Charter Amendment On Debt Extension Move

New that city council has accepted the Fortin bond debt extension plan, the possibility of the proposal being authorized by the legislature is being considered by city officials.

Ald. Elisha East moved acceptance of the plan, and the proposal was approved by a vote of 26-3. It is pointed out that the Fortin plan is a refunding scheme.

While council has made its decision on the plan, the possibility of the proposal being authorized by the legislature is being considered by city officials.

Despite this provision, City Solicitor Thomas Garfield has drafted a new charter amendment which will be submitted to the legislature.

LOOK HERE TO SEE HOW TO GROW POPULATION HOUSE IS INFORMED

OTTAWA, Feb. 12.—The western drought problem was outlined to the House of Commons by Hon. J. G. Gardiner, yesterday. He predicted in 10 years there would be more people in the so-called drought area than there is today.

Mr. Gardiner drew on his experience as a farmer battling drought in both the western states and in Saskatchewan and as a cabinet minister in the Saskatchewan government to show the open prairie lands were capable of producing great wealth and should not be abandoned.

BETTER CHANCES

Some 80,000 people, he said, inhabited the triangular area of 300 municipalities which had suffered from drought in the past five years. These people could be settled anywhere else in Canada and given the same opportunity they enjoyed where they were.

The time had come, Mr. Gardiner said, to do something more than keep the people on the land, to take constructive steps to improve their conditions. Under the drought rehabilitation scheme water holes had been dug and dams constructed. Plans were now under way for shifting some of the people to better lands and putting lands to their best use.

"I should like to say to those who are concerned about the future of the west," he said, "that we are going to have good crops again in the Saskatchewan. Some day we will have a combination of good crops and plenty of good prices. When we do our position will not be impossible."

To farmers who complained about the climate of the prairies Mr. Gardiner said it might be different climate people could not live there. The climate was suited for growing wheat. The people had not suffered any more from drought in the past few years than the people of the western states suffered in the thirties.

A few inches of rainfall might ruin the difference between a bumper crop and a failure but other conditions, wind and temperature, entered the picture and dry weather alone was not the cause of crop failure.

MISTAKE MADE

In settling the western plains a mistake had been made in surveying the country out in squares and placing farmers on quarter sections, said Mr. Gardiner.

The system worked out all right in some heavy soil districts but it would have been better to have had more regard for the geography of the country.

The government's plans involved reforesting some farmers around community pastures, along rivers and near waterholes where they would be able to make a living and keep their stock alive in times of drought.

ALBERTA PASTURE

Mr. Gardiner said he would deal with the question, "Is further effort worth while?" He said of experiments by the governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta in re-planting involving evacuation of families from dried out districts to more favorable areas.

Quick results had been made in areas in northern Saskatchewan and Alberta where it was proposed to establish community pastures and breeding centers.

A.F.L. CHIEF SAYS LEWIS SURRENDERED

Closed Shop Not Conceded Declares Green, in Strike Comment

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, characterized the General Motors strike settlement as a surrender on the part of John L. Lewis, United Auto Workers leader, who failed to surrender in a "closed shop" in department stores.

Green claimed by the union as their "betrayal."

"If any one lesson has been taught," Green said, "it is that in a fight of this kind Lewis is a failure."

SLIDE BURIES PLOUGH TRAIN: TWO MISSING

Five Units Thrown 50 Feet Down Into Snow Dump

REVELSTOCK, B.C., Feb. 12.—Rescue crews today sought two railwaymen missing in the debris of a snowslide which swept five units of a C.P.R. snowplough train from the rails near Revelstock, 25 miles east of here yesterday.

Meanwhile a special train bore doctors and medical equipment to the scene to aid one other injured. Those sought were Conductor John McDonald, and Fireman William C. Christopher.

DIGS SET OUT

Engineer James L. Carmichael dug himself out of the slide unharmed but Snowplough Foreman W. Hinde was slightly hurt when the slide struck.

The other engine in which Mr. McDonald was riding, continued on down the embankment for another 25 feet and half buried itself in the waters of the Kootenai river.

The train was trapped between the 15-foot banks of a cut through a 100-foot side of a mile from Revelstock, where they were attempting to start a derailed engine back on the track.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 12

THEY DON'T DO IT

A Calgary woman, questioning to what some clothing, with the usual result—except that her daughter took off the mother's clothes and saved

the "home" went into an emerald.

Nobody ever gets into the habit of writing warnings about that dangerous practice, and no newspaper reticent for publishing them. For reasons perhaps of space and space, and the practice is so dangerous and it isn't new to us.

If gasoline were a strange commodity these warnings would be read with attention, and would be more or less heeded. Familiarity has bred contempt for its ready capabilities, and the washing gone to waste the balance of probability that sooner or later the half-expired will happen.

But there are some people who do not wash clothes in gasoline—those who have tried it once too often. Most of those people are dead, and the others do forget.

WHEN DOCTORS DIFFER

Mr. Percy Rowe, M.P. for Athabasca, is very proud in his opinion that the Alberta Government has not been in the habit of consulting with doctors who would or could produce the promised dividends. He even says the Government has been travelling in the wrong direction, and getting further and further away from the outside, who do not understand the Social

Credit method of reasoning, and cannot comprehend the possibility of paying the dividends, are not in good position to judge which of the two promised authorities is right.

It can be said, however, that the set-up envisioned by Mr. Rowe is not one they will cheer for. The notion that the province should be operated as "an economic unit," with officials controlling exports and imports, and with a medium of exchange put into use, would not function in place of legal tender, save to much of regret to the people of the province.

As between that project and the policy the Government has been following, the latter has at least the advantage that it is being understood.

UNDER-WEIGHT CHILDREN

Edmonton parents will be interested, and

Edmonton should be concerned, in the report presented to the public health board, that 12.5 of the school children are under-weight. Of these, 12.9 per cent are children from families who are on relief.

The ratio is fairly close as between children whose families are on relief and those from it will decide to strike now, will decide whether Europe is to plunge into another general war at once, or have what is called peace for the first more years or months. The result, in the last war event, depended on the long it will take the Reichswehr and it will make up their mind what they want next.

THE FIXED PRICE

When the Dominion Government decided last summer that the wheat board should only buy wheat if the price would be low, 90 cents a bushel, some hot protests were made from northern Saskatchewan, including the constituency represented by the Prime Minister.

These have been tabled by parliament, and summarized in press despatches. They leave nothing to be desired in the matter of warmth.

"Tread hard to the source, it will probably be found that the more vociferous of these protests originated with the political branch of the wheat-growers which has always been strong in the west, and that they were willing to pay more active in politics than successful in marketing wheat.

When the idea of an eliminated by the ideas still existing in that quarter, Canada's wheat policy was interpreted by overseas buyers to mean that the wheat board was not willing to pay more than they were willing to pay. What followed is a matter of record: under pressure of the enormous surplus, wheat went down to 20 cents a bushel, and the wheat board was having failed to hold up the overseas buyer,

the idea now apparently is that the Canadian farmer will be held up by the wheat board. That is a delusion. He can't be and won't be. A guaranteed price for wheat approximately equal to the market price of wheat from all other sources is what the wheat board is aiming at. The wheat board is not the branch of primary production which occupies the largest portion of the Canadian people, but a guaranteed price of $1 to $1.50 a bushel—much more in the telegrams of protest, is neither needed nor reasonable.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: Rosalie V. asks: "What is the best way to fry meat?"

ANSWER: I suggest that instead of frying meat, you broil or roast it. If you have a broiler to obtain the effect of frying, use a heavy skillet

and without adding any grease, place your steak

in the hot skillet for ten minutes, turning it immediately, repeating this several times during the first few minutes. When the meat is well seared on both sides, turn down the fire and allow the meat to finish cooking as desired.

You will find that the addition of the canned mushroom sauce, which is added last thing before the meat is served, will provide you with a pleasing change in flavor.

QUESTION: Herman K. asks: "I take very much liquid with the dinner meal, or drink an extra glass of water before bedtime. I am bothered by my kidneys working too frequently and am forced to get up during the night. When I must get up, this does not occur. Do you think I would injure my health if I stay away from liquid after 5 o'clock in the afternoon?" So much for liquid, this does not oc-

Alcohol Rub Helps To Banish Fatigue

By GLADYS GLAD
Inevitably, especially after a long day of work, we are feeling tired and nervous by evening. I've heard that alcohol rubs are very soothing and helpful. Is this true? And how does one administer an alcohol rub?

An alcohol rub is indeed something very refreshing, and will assist you immeasurably in recovering from the weariness and tension of the day. The alcohol rub is much more effective when administered by a professional, but you can do it successfully yourself. A warm, cleansing bath should be taken first, to soothe the jagged nerves to rest. Then the muscular tension, and to relax the muscles. After the bath, the body should be thoroughly dried with a warm Turkish towel. Then apply the rubbing alcohol with a small sponge or square of cotton and massage every part of your body until it is dry. An alcohol rub induces rest-sleep.

"I am considerably under weight and have been trying my damndest to put on some flesh. My doctor told me among other things, to consume large quantities of rich milk every day, but I just can't seem to drink it. It seems to me that I have a milk intolerance. Can you tell me how I might overcome this?"

As a rule, people who cannot

Cow's Complaint Was Tennis Ball

BRISBANE, Aus. Feb. 12.—A. J. Batten, a farmer of West Division, became concerned recently when a large lump appeared on the jaw of one of his cows and showed no sign of going down. Suspecting tuberculosis, he decided not to use the cow's milk. Finally he called in a veterinary surgeon to remove the lump. The vet discovered that the cow's complaint was a tennis ball which had become imbedded between its teeth and its cheek.

"I read in a magazine about a cattle remover being used to remove small callouses from the hooves. I've forgotten the exact procedure, however, and as I'd like to try it, I'd be grateful if you could assist me in this matter."
—EMILIE L.

The process that you refer to is simple enough. Dip a cotton-tipped orange stick into some good cuticle remover, and then touch it to the calloused individual toe. The ginger ale is said to render the milk more easily digestible.

Rice Wedded To Beef Is Valentine Romance

By RENE GAYNOR MADDOX
You don't have to have love eyes to enjoy rice. Nor must you be of to cream, whipped. Now for a rice with creamed beef. Rely on me on magic, but on this recipe.

RICE (Serves 6)
One cup uncooked rice, 3 eggs, 1 cup cream, 1/2 cup grated cheese, salt and pepper.
Boil rice. Have it dry and light.

A colorful one-dish luncheon—green peas in the centre of a golden rice mound with creamed dried beef.

Add the beaten eggs, cream and grated cheese. Butter a ring mold, pour in the rice mixture, set mold in water bath. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 hour. When done, unmold on hot platter. Fill center with green peas and surround with creamed dried beef or creamed fish. It makes an excellent one-dish meal. It's another bonus answer to the Lenten problem.

Have you planned something a bit romantic for dinner on Valentine's Day? Then take a look at this heart-winning recipe.

HEART OF RICE
(Six Rich Servings)

One cup cooked rice, 1 table-spoon grated cheese, 1/2 cup cold water, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup creamed or evaporated milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 cup sugar.
Four cold water in bowl then sprinkle granulated gelatin on it. Place bowl in boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add discourage phobias. Let's see. We can take almost any example to demonstrate what I mean. Say a dining board. Yes, Billy is afraid to climb the ladder and let himself go.

All the other children race over the playground and scramble over the fence. Billy, however, little Billy hangs back. He hates himself, and he hates the other youngsters.

Every time he has screwed up his courage it has failed him. He can't get on top of that slide then he could march into a dragon's den.

First of all make it a point for every child in the group to know exactly about him. He must feel that he is one of the boys in the group.

PRIDE FEELS FEAR
Next, something must enter his mind that makes it very important for him to slide. So important that four becomes secondary.

And there must be an agent. What this is you will have to study out. Perhaps there is a younger child very fond of Billy, who will slide if Billy looks on.

Next, Billy, balanced with pride, may slide if Billy knows he is being watched by the group.

This mixture is cooked rice. Add sugar and vanilla. Beat well. Cool. When it begins to thicken pour in the cream, whipped. Now for the Valentine cake. Ingredients: 1 package cherry gelatin, 1 pint whipping cream, 1/4 cup powdered sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat gelatin according to the instructions on the package. They vary according to brand. Beat in cream and sugar. Fold in cold water. Pour in gelatin mixture. Let set.

A Valentine's cake, a small round cake decorated with cherries and cream.

Then fill mold with the rice. Layer mixture. Chill thoroughly. When ready to serve, unmold on large platter. Heat cream with sugar, vanilla. Gently fold top of your dessert with the sweetened cream and arrange small mounds of the cream around sides of heart.

For smaller children, simply creamed, a mold of pulverized white wheat cereal makes a handsome party dish.

The jury of middle-aged men, all married, took three hours and nine minutes to decide the fate of the slayer, when lawyers admitted he had done the murder and attempted to save him from the electric chair.

Rights Restored

At the Santa Monica, Calif., home where they have resided in exile since shortly after their marriage in England in 1894, Prince Sigvard of Sweden, son of Crown Prince Gustav Adolf, and his common-law wife, the former Erika Patzek, German society girl, read happily an official communique informing them their marriage at last has been recognized by the Swedish crown, and that Sigvard had been restored his royal rights and prerogatives.

PEACE DISTRICT NOT RESTING ON PROSPERITY OARS

People of Peace River district are not allowing their present spell of prosperity to induce complacency but are laying plans for further economic recovery, said J. M. Morrison, Calgary, who has been traveling in the north for more than a decade.

Citing unusual business activity prevailing in northern cities, and emphasizing the large increase in retail trade, Mr. Morrison said that optimism now marked the outlook of all communities.

Support of centralized school districts and a plea for greater library facilities, came from Mrs. Harris, a student near Grande Prairie, who said many communities of the north felt isolated from the rest of the province. Her cultural activities were concerned.

Dr. Wallace suggested conferences on human life. He had made a study of the cultural activities of the north, whereby books will be sent to rural areas. Harris urged that the request of the University Library for greater educational facilities for Peace River settlers should be promptly acted upon.

Sufferer Follows Good Advice—and Takes Kruschen

The writer of the following letter had a bad attack of rheumatism, and was advised to take Kruschen. He did so, and describes his experience in the following words:

"About three years ago I developed a severe attack of rheumatism in my left shoulder blade. I tried all sorts of remedies, but with no result, until one day my brother-in-law, on hearing of my suffering, remarked: 'There is only one thing for rheumatism! That is—Kruschen! I decided to purchase a bottle, and for the first week took a teaspoonful in a glass of hot water each morning. The pain gradually disappeared and has now gone entirely. I am still taking one early morning dose, as I feel convinced it is helpful to keep the salt in the system.'"

Rheumatic conditions are frequently the result of an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are notable for their power in dissolving acid. Other ingredients of these salts will help to ease the dissolved acid from the system.

Contract Bridge

DANGEROUS PRE-EMPTING

Years ago it was found that an attempt to pre-empt after an adversary has made an opening bid, quite frequently leads the second bidder into trouble. Third hand, provided he holds a strong suit, the opening call will support over the jumped second bid, and the second bidder will be in a bad position. Sometimes the opening bidder would not have been bid and made, and the second bidder would not have been in a position to bid.

"It may be for our children to see the solution of such problems. In important things, as to have our faces in the right direction."

Dr. Wallace suggested conferences on human life. He had made a study of the cultural activities of the north, whereby books will be sent to rural areas. Harris urged that the request of the University Library for greater educational facilities for Peace River settlers should be promptly acted upon.

WATTA MAN TED WILLIAMS TOAST U. OF A. CAMPUS

Dr. Wallace suggested conferences on human life. He had made a study of the cultural activities of the north, whereby books will be sent to rural areas. Harris urged that the request of the University Library for greater educational facilities for Peace River settlers should be promptly acted upon.

Debunker

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph.D.

The common idea is that country people are rather dull and mediocre. This is a very old prejudice, and one that is being blown away by the progress of education. Looking them Over

By Jack Kelly
Longden Rises
Try This One!
Minors Boom

JOHNNY LONGDEN, the boy from Calgary, Alberta, who has ridden his way from the fair circuit tracks of western Canada to the biggest tracks on the North American continent, will likely reach new heights in 1937. Word has just been received here that he has been given a contract by E. Woodward, wealthy U.S. race owner of Gallant Fox farm. Johnny has been his way to the top by sheer riding ability. He has been put on all sorts of horses, a list of which would have needed a printing start to host a neared sailor around the track once, but he brought most of them down in the money.

Longden can get more out of a horse with his hands and knees than most jockeys can get with a whip. Last year he was second only to Basil James in the jockeys. He was riding for Alvin G. and had some good ones, but the Woodward stable should give him an even better chance.

Johnny started his riding career in Calgary in 1928 for Johnson. It was on the Western Canada circuit that he first showed the class that aroused Tarkenton. Longden rode the unique record of 100 wins in 100 starts to over ride the same horse in two years and six months. He has been on the track for two years and has won 100 races. He has been on the track for two years and has won 100 races. He has been on the track for two years and has won 100 races.

Here's A New One For Curlers

FROM Inverness, the town that sent the stars McPherson and Lennan to the New York arena, comes a new curling club. The new club is a new one for curlers. It is a new one for curlers. It is a new one for curlers.

There are three kinds of curlers in the world. There are the old-fashioned curlers who are used to the old-fashioned curling stones. There are the new curlers who are used to the new curling stones. There are the curlers who are used to the curling stones.

It is a new curling club that many curlers will find useful for curling up to the curling club.

Next game: Saturday—Rangers at Elks. Miners at Bruins; Seniors at Bruins.

BY JOE DECHANE

The Rangers traded themselves to a general fattening of scoring averages last night at the expense of the Elks. Oldie like to defend the Alberta Senior playoffs 9-2 in a scheduled encounter at the Arena.

By virtue of their one-sided victory Dominions, while still in fifth place, are now one point behind Superiors and Drumheller in third place. Both local teams have a meagre advantage over the Miners.

WEREN'T EXTENDED

Dominions seemed called upon to hit their best side, not even their second left to take the spitting Oldie home machine into camp. While they completely mastered the game throughout, had they capitulated on all their earlier errors, the Rangers' victory might have looked like a mere formality.

However, Ray Maybank in the Elks goal, whose short legs as ever seemed all corners of the cage, served credit for spelling many efforts that looked like certain goals. Of the nine scored on him, only one or two might have been stopped.

Stelly Munro did his share in keeping his side from a 10-0 rout. He kept two for two line centers, McLeod, Brown, Gaud and Miller were the most conspicuous in the Dominions scoring.

WICKED IF RICH

The Miners struck it rich right from the outset when a 3-0 lead, the result of a 3-0 start, was theirs. The Elks, like the Elks, played the game free style. M. Leach slung the puck in from the Elks' end, and the Miners' attack was on.

Gaud and Brown followed up last shot to the corner. Five minutes later, Dukes McLeod and Miller staged a successful attack on the Elks' fortress.

Four minutes after the start of the second frame, McLeod scored his second point by scoring on Brown's net.

But later Frank Warkawsky, Junior Oldie, determined to draw a penalty and a possible shot against Dominions, when he tripped and as he was going in from what seemed like a safe goal.

ACROBATIC SAVE

Bill Gaud took the shot and only the acrobatic work of Maybank saved a goal.

At the 15 minute mark Elks got their first taste of scoring when Maybank shot the puck from behind. After performing a hop-step-and-a-jump, Maybank shot the puck straight into the net. (Some say it was a fluke.)

Towards the end of the period, Gaud gave a pass and the Elks' "short" written all over it. Like the Elks, the Rangers were the team that played a penalty to Warkawsky, his third in that period.

At the half-hour mark of the second frame, the Elks, Warkawsky, 15-00, Penalties—Elks, Warkawsky 15-00; Dominions, Purcell 12-04; Dominions, Gaud 11-00; Dominions, Gaud 11-00.

With seven minutes and a few seconds to go, Dominions went on
